

DGM Aromatics – Privacy Policy

DGM Aromatics is committed to protecting your privacy. We will only use the information that we collect about you lawfully (in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998)

We collect information about you for 2 reasons: firstly, to process your order and second, to provide you with the best possible service.

We will not e-mail you in the future unless you have given us your consent.

We will not pass your e-mail address to other parties.

We do not sell, rent, share, trade or give away personal information about our customers unless we are required to do so by law.

The type of information we will collect about you includes:

- Your name
- Address
- Phone number
- Email address
- Credit/debit card details

We will never collect sensitive information about you without your explicit consent. The information we hold will be accurate and up to date.

You can check the information that we hold about you by emailing us. If you find any inaccuracies we will delete or correct it promptly.

The personal information, which we hold, will be held securely in accordance with our internal security policy and the law. If we intend to transfer your information outside the EEA (European Economic Area) we will always obtain your consent first. We may use technology to track the patterns of behaviour of visitors to our site. This can include using a "cookie" which would be stored on your browser. You can usually modify your browser to prevent this happening. The information collected in this way can be used to identify you unless you modify your browser settings.

Our site contains links to other sites. DGM Aromatics is not responsible for the privacy practices, or the content, of those web sites.

If you have any questions/comments or concerns about privacy, you should e-mail Darren McCarthy (darren@dgmaramatics.com) who is responsible for security on this site.
